ALMON LEADS IN THE MUSCLE SHOALS FIGHT

ATHENS LOOMS UP AS PROSPECT FOR NEXT HALF RACE; REPLACE MINERS

Str Powers From Limestone
City Here Thursday Comferring With Local Heads.

TWINS DUE FOR TWO PRAYS ON LAST DAY

Shakeup Expected to Come
Soon in Manager Mc-
Duff's Clan.

With the first game of the Sheffield series rained out when a severe rain and hail storm hit the Tri-City parts it is very likely that a double header will be on the circuit for Saturday to end the first half season of the Alabama-Tennessee chase.

Russell will do the box work for the Twins today and may go back tomorrow for one of the Twin frays as he hasn't been a representative of the home club on the mound for over a week.

The last three games in Sheffield and the last two at Columbia will determine the standing of the Columbia Mules and the Triplets. The case lies before the Twins as to whether the Triplets stay where they are not and with the brand the Twins have been showing the last two weeks it is very likely that the Triplets will have to be satisfied with third position in the official standing for the first half.

Shelton, the new hurler who just blew into town will be signed for the second half race and it is not yet known who will get the gate, but under the rules of the association someone will have to go to keep the Twins in the player regulation.

Lauderman, third sacker will go to Chattanooga to the Lookouts for a tryout and in his absence Manager McDuff will send Gilliland to assume the third point position. Gillie has looked like a million ever since he has been here and it is expected that the Twins will have a combination of an A. No. 1 fielder and a clouter of the first class, in him.

The Twin box staff will remain the same, with the exception of Shelton the boy from the southern parts of the state of "Here we rest," as all the local crew have turned in over fifty per cent wins during the race just closing.

A second string receiver may be herded in to relieve the weary Johnston who hasn't had a rest this season and has caught a string of forty-five games without a stop.

President Rountree of the local club and Manager McDuff are going after the second half flag as earnestly as they did in the chase of the first bunting. The Mules, Miners, and Triplets all look like strong contenders for the honors but it is assured that they will have to travel in fast company to rival the Twins if they hope to cop.

A new prospect to take over the Russellville Miners has loomed up in the personage of six "big ones" from Athens. The Athenians can't stand the dust of the diamond so near and not have it rise in their own back yard anymore than any other true follower of the national pastime.

Huntsville was the first thought of town to complete the missing link in the Ala-Tenn. League chain but that folk concluded that they had a crack amateur outfit in the Huntsville Night Hawks and loaded up on a lot of amateur dates and staid out, despite the efforts of President Cowie of the Association and the local club head.

In case Athens proves a false alarm the Russellville club will have to play stretches of six games at the other three cities to make expenses for the Russellville inhabitants fail to recognize their opportunities in being representatives in the league.

The last big game at Russellville between that outfit and the Triplets went twelve innings in a great game that was decided on an error in favor of Sheffield and the whole affair was witnessed by a sixty-five dollar crowd.

Stay with the Twins and you will get started.

JAPANESE LEARY OF HARDING'S FAR EAST PROPOSAL

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 15.—Japan has asked the United States for a statement as to the scope of the proposed conference on the Far Eastern Conference it was officially learned today.

The State Department refused to state whether this government had made replies to the Japanese authorities or not.

(International News Service)
LONDON, July 15.—Japan wants to fully understand the scope of the proposed conference on the Far Eastern question it was learned today. In the case of America it was learned that certain questions have been sent to Washington from the Japanese government and until replies are received the Japanese will not make any new moves.

Lord Curzon, and the Japanese ambassador have held a number of conferences on these proposals and Curzon has been asked to explain the British attitude.

SEC. HOOVER LAYS BLAME FOR BAD BUSINESS ON WAR

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, July 15.—Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Commerce, today placed most of the blame for business depression upon prices set in motion during the past war.

Hoover made an address before the National Real Estate association. "This is the thirteenth industrial depression we have suffered since the Civil war. We have come through the others alright and we will come through this as well on account of our improved financial system," said Secretary Hoover.

Will Probably Close Services Tonight

The Church of Christ meeting at the big tent on Grant street will probably close tonight as Evangelist Brewer is booked to begin a meeting at Portland, Tenn., while J. C. Pettet Ezell, the local preacher is to begin a meeting Sunday at Springfield, Tenn.

The usual large crowd heard Mr. Brewer last night on "Sanctification." The meeting has been far reaching in its effect and the congregation is highly pleased with the splendid results. To date twenty four have been added to the congregation and others are expected tonight at the final service.

The subject tonight, "A Way that is Right and Cannot be Wrong" is expected to draw a record breaking crowd.

See a winner for the second half as well as the first for the home folks do up the job all at once when they get started.

"I Will Not Turn Down Any Reasonable Offer" Says War Sec'y Weeks

STATE OFFICER WILL INSPECT OIL WELL IN SUMPTER CO.

(Montgomery Bureau Albany-
Decatur Daily)

MONTGOMERY, July 15.—Oil has been found near Coatopa, Sumter county, at a depth of less than five hundred feet, according to a report received by the state securities commission from the Sumter Oil and Development Company. The company said evidences of oil had been noticeable for several days, but as oil-bearing sands had not been reached in the drilling it was possible the oil had been forced upward through crevices by gas and that the pool would be reached later.

W. C. Oates, executive officer of the state securities commission, will make an inspection of the well and if there are evidences of oil will issue an official statement to that effect.

The report of the company regarding the finding of oil follows in part: "I am writing to tell you about the oil we have struck at Coatopa. The first showing occurred after striking a crevice at one hundred and twenty-five feet. We knew when we struck the crevice as the drill dropped two feet. Oil began to show after this and has been showing ever since. At one hundred and eighty feet we got such a strong showing of gas as to blow water out of the hole and over the casing for several hours. Since first getting showings of oil and gas, we have gotten some oil continuously, sometimes more and sometimes less, and gas intermittently. Have encountered no oil sands and have been in nothing except the limestone until yesterday when we encountered black limestone or shale saturated with oil at four hundred and eight feet.

"We had encountered another crevice at about three hundred and eighty feet and following it had gotten more oil than ever, the drill being pretty well covered with it when we pulled up the bailer being covered on the outside surface and a very considerably quantity within. Each succeeding bailer carried more and as we emptied it on the slush pit oil soon covered the pit and ditch."

The company said an analysis indicated that the oil was similar to that obtained in the Kentucky field, which brings the greatest price of any crude oil.

FORDNEY TARIFF STILL UP FOR AMENDMENT

WASHINGTON, July 15.—With general debate in the House today they took up the task of amending the Fordney Tariff Bill. The route of amendment was given to the ways and means committee. The tariff on hides is one that will be changed. The cotton men who are demanding a duty on long staple cotton do not seem to have made the headway that was made by the hide men.

HENRY FORD MAKES OFFER GOVERNMENT FOR NITRATE PLANT, AND TO LEASE DAM

Authority Must Come Through Congress and Matter goes
Before Body at Once.

APPROPRIATION WILL BE ASKED TO COMPLETE

The Great Work Undertaken Which Means so Much to Nation.

The Daily received at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon two telegrams advising that Henry Ford had made an offer to the Government to take over Muscle Shoals. The wires were received too late to appear in the afternoon issue of July 14, but the originals were bulletined in public places and read last night at the meeting of the Morgan Kiwanis club, bringing the first news to this city that Mr. Ford had really made an offer.—Editor.

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 15.—"I will not turn down any reasonable offer," said Secretary Weeks this afternoon commenting on the proposal of Henry Ford.

"Any reasonable offer that guarantees that the work now going on will be completed and that will benefit the public will have my endorsement," said the secretary of war.

War department experts have been given the proposal. The secretary said that the Ford proposal was not in the form that he would like it but this would not hurt the proposal. The Muscle Shoals project has cost the government $69,000,000 to date.

General Harry Taylor in charge of the work estimated last February that the cost for completion would be $64,488,788 in addition to that already spent.

Representative Almon, Alabama, leader in the fight to get additional appropriations said today, "I am waiting to get the exact terms of Mr. Ford's offer, until I know them, I cannot say what will be the attitude of those of us who are desirous of seeing the project carried through."

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Announcement has been made by Secretary Weeks that Henry Ford's offer for the Nitrate Plant is being considered and the Secretary is seeking authority to accept the offer by the million dollar manufacturer. The authority must come through Congress and the matter will be laid before that body immediately.

Mr. Ford's bid was received by Secretary of Commerce Hoover late Thursday afternoon and contained the following terms: Mr. Ford offers to buy a nitrate plant and equipment and lands for $5,000,000 and lease for one hundred years the Wilson Dam No. 3 when completed at an annual obligation of $1,500,000 dollars. Ford wishes to convert the plant into a fertilizer manufacturing plant to be sold to agricultural districts at no more than eight per cent profit and to keep the plant in readiness for the manufacture of explosives for the government in the case of war.

Secretary Weeks intends to ask Congress for an appropriation to complete the work. The government started on the dam and it is said that the appropriation will be in the neighborhood of $28,000,000 on which Ford agrees to pay an annual interest rate of 6 per cent to extend over a period of one hundred years.

Secretary of Commerce Hoover stated that the negotiations grew out of representatives of the Tennessee Valley association, the Mississippi Valley association and the American Farm Bureau Federation who all laid plans before the Commerce Department.

CHASE TO RIVER SEIZED WITH CRAMP AND IS DROWNED

Cliff Malone, negro, is dead by drowning, and Florence Davis, negro, is still unconscious as a result of wounds on the head supposed to have been inflicted last night. Malone was accidentally drowned when he took to the Tennessee river after a hard chase by Deputy-sheriff Halbrooks after having been suspected of the assault on the negroes.

The Davis woman was discovered at her home on Railroad street this morning between eight and nine o'clock in a serious condition with two gaping wounds in her head, which looked like the work of an axeman.

Malone, officers say, was suspected of doing the deed and his name was put in the sheriff's office. Deputy Halbrooks was detailed to make the arrest. Halbrooks located the negro on Market street, just to the right of the old Bank building. Halbrooks was unarmed and when he attempted to place the negro under arrest the suspect hit him twice with his fists and broke for the river.

Deputy Halbrooks gave chase and followed the negro about two and half miles down the left bank, past the Huntsville Lumber Company. Here the negro became exhausted and took to the water, and was drowned before the Deputy reached him.

It is thought that the condition of the negro was the cause, following the gruelling chase, that he became subject to cramps and was unable to save himself.

PRESIDENT ASKED HAVE MONUMENT BOOTH DESTROYED

(Montgomery Bureau Albany-
Decatur Daily.)

MONTGOMERY, July 15.—The monument erected in Troy, Ala., honoring John Wilkes Booth for the murder of Abraham Lincoln, which Nebraska veterans have asked President Harding to destroy, was only a small marble slab costing twenty-five dollars which was erected by Pink Parker, eccentric citizen of Troy, on his own private property, according to information obtained today. The monument long ago ceased to attract attention and the last heard of it had been cast aside and was under the Parker home in Troy.

Despite reports that it was erected in the sixties, the fact is it was made in Montgomery about fifteen years ago on the order of Parker. The inscription on it is as follows: "Erected by Pink Parker in honor of John Wilkes Booth for killing old Abe Lincoln." It was placed in Parker's front yard on Hanchey street after the city refused to permit its being placed on public property. Parker was a member of the Fifteenth Alabama Regiment in the war between the states.

Reports have spread throughout the United States that the slab was erected by public subscription and one report has been that it was an elaborate monument carved by world-known sculptors at a great expense.

AERIAL CIRCUS MAY BE STAGED AUSPICES COMMERCE BOARD

As a preliminary to a proposed Aerial Circus to be held here Saturday, July 23, under the auspices of the Albany Chamber of Commerce, the scout plane of the Dixie Flying Corporation of Birmingham will fly over Albany and Decatur today. The plane will carry up all who desire to ride over the cities today for the actual cost of fuel, as an advertisement for the circus.

It will be remembered that the Dixie Flying Corporation is the firm who put through the Aeroplane Mail service from Birmingham to Chicago and which will come through here after the service is installed.

The plane is flying from the Albany Gun Club field and a large crowd is expected to visit the field.

SOLDIERS BONUS RETURNED TO THE SENATE TODAY

WASHINGTON, July 15.—The soldiers bonus bill will be sent back to the Senate this afternoon with the President's request that the Senate defer action on it for a future date. An amendment is pending to instruct the committee to rewrite the bill and to report it to the Senate by July 22, 1922. They appeared to offer an amendment of their own.

LOCAL STARS DEFEAT LIMESTONE REPS IN INTERESTING GAME

The Morgan County champions and the Limestone County Leaders met yesterday on Shady Grove Court to decide the best in the two counties. Lamar Eyster and James Johnson were the Morgan County representatives, but the names of the Limestone contestants have not been revealed. The Morgan County team defeated the challengers in an interesting game by the score of 14-12 and 6-3. The former game is probably the best played yet on the local court.

The Albany-Decatur tennis tournament now being played at Shady Grove court is now well under way with four of the preliminaries over.

Up to the present time Lamar Eyster, Carl Thomas, P. J. Brown and J. F. Bragg are the winners over D. C. Adams, Earl Pettet, P. E. Dettra and James Johnson respectively.

Dr. O. M. Roan and Sam Hollingsworth are tied, each winning one set to the tune of 7-5 and 9-11. The tie will be played off on tomorrow, Saturday.

Following is the list of the local games to be played in the preliminaries and the dates:

Dr. O. M. Roan vs. Sam Hollingsworth—Saturday, July 16.
Sam Callow vs. Glen Harvey—Monday, July 18.
H. O. Geidel vs. Thos. Hatton—Monday, July 18.

KIWANIS APPOINTS COMMITTEE AID "MUSCLE SHOALS" DEVELOPMENT

Ringed Resolutions passed and Measures Taken for Active
Work at Once.

MORGAN KIWANIS CLUB TO WORK WITH VIM

Committee of Prominent Men Appointed Who do Things—Now.

Kiwanis in a ringing resolution went on record to do all in the power of the club, acting as individuals, and as a body, to foster and aid in every possible way, the bringing about of conditions that will insure the completion of the government work at Muscle Shoals. Any one who has looked into the matter in a most casual way recognizes the great importance to this nation that the work undertaken be brought to a successful end. The following resolution was unanimously endorsed, and Clyde Hendrix, Walter Clouton, Otto Moeber, Lamar Penney, with President Cook and Vice Presidents Matthews and Davis, the latter three officers as ex-officio members, appeared to take immediate steps to set the machinery in motion:

Recognizing the vast possibilities inherent in this location through the proposed development of the Wilson Dam and the operation of the Nitrate Plant, and particularly the benefits to our own cities from the low cost power which would be available, it seems the part of wisdom for us to immediately formulate and set in motion plans to secure these advantages and make the most of them.

In order that such machinery may be set in motion with as little delay as possible, I move:

THAT the Chair appoint a committee of four members of which the President and two vice presidents be ex-officio members, to consider the most effective means whereby this Club could co-operate with other organizations and individuals in this work;

That this Committee be requested to hold a meeting in this room as early as practicable for the purpose of receiving and considering any suggestions.

That all members be urged to give earnest consideration to this matter which so vitally affects the entire community, and submit in writing or in person to this committee any plan or suggestion.

That this committee from these suggestions, and in their own best judgment, formulate a plan, and report back to this body at its next meeting.

Convention Report

The following report of Secretary Baird and Vice President Matthews, who were delegates to the Kiwanis International Convention held at Cleveland, Ohio, was read by Chas. Matthews and heard with much interest and attention:

The fifth annual Convention of the Kiwanis Club International was formally opened June 21st, the Convention convening in the Masonic Temple, Cleveland, Ohio. Prior to the formal opening conferences of the various club Presidents and Secretaries were held on June 20th, in the Winton Hotel. It may be interesting to note that the following recommendations as suggested to the Convention by the Secretaries, were adopted:

First—It was recommended that a budget be made of the year's expenses and that this budget be adhered to strictly.

Second—That no club solicit or allow anyone to solicit from the club money or contributions for charitable purposes and that no money from the Treasury be appropriated for charitable purposes.

Third—That dues be payable in advance monthly, and if possible include the luncheon and all items required to complete the budget.

Fourth—That Secretaries receive some compensation for their services. We, as the Morgan Kiwanis club, (Continued on Page 4)

THE HARDING DISARMAMENT PLAN WILL BE AN EXTENSIVE ONE

The inclusion of France, Italy and China, in addition to England and Japan in the invitation to join this country in a disarmament conference, makes it reasonably sure that President Harding aims to go much further than the Borah naval disarmament resolution. Senator Borah aimed only at naval disarmament, and that to apply only to England, Japan and the United States. If Mr. Harding expected to touch on naval disarmament only, what use would there have been in including China, Italy and France? The President doubtless will support the Borah plan in principle, as he raised no objection to it at the time it was before Congress. But he must certainly aim to do something about reductions in standing armies also, especially since France with a million soldiers was invited. France is the first of the five powers to formally announce acceptance of the Harding invitation; but her readiness to talk things over does not mean necessarily, that the French republic is ready to go the limit and disband her million soldiers. It may turn out to have been unwise for the President, to have included France in his invitation. That nation is possibly not ready to give up her standing army. In the last century France has been invaded three times, and two of the invasions came very near being fatal to her national life. If America had been over run three times in the last hundred years is it reasonable to suppose that we would be in favor of military disarmament? If the conference purposed by Mr. Harding, should undertake to vote the army of France away, difficult complications would likely arise. In such an event it will doubtless appear that Mr. Harding has undertaken more than he can perform. There are distinct merits in the Borah Naval disarmament plan—it is simple—it includes the three naval powers of the world—and it could be put in to effect with little interference with the domestic affairs of either Japan, England or this country.

As these three great sea powers have nothing to fear, unless it be aggression from each other, if any one of them should refuse to limit their Navies, the charge of bad faith would be uppermost. Neither Great Britain, Japan or the United States could furnish any good reason or excuse for further enlargement of their Navies, hence they would likely come to an agreement. It might seem possible that Mr. Harding contemplates tackling the armament question only, as it relates to the sea, if it did not also appear that the far Eastern questions, are to be taken up. The invitation extended to China, and the recent public statements of Mr. Lloyd George, to the effect, that America is to be consulted as to the far East, makes it practically certain that the deliberations of the conference will be extended to about all of the questions under the sun. Should this be the case, it may turn out as predicted in yesterday's dispatches, that President Harding contemplates organizing his long heralded "Association of Nations." Like most of Mr. Harding's proposals his latest is very indefinite. He may really aim to stick closely to the Borah resolution as passed by the Congress, and to confine his efforts to Naval disarmament. He may not seek to include any powers, in an active sense, except Japan, Great Britain and the United States and his invitations to France, China and Italy to be present were purely complimentary and meant for politeness sake. But the evidence seems to support the contention that Mr. Harding expects to hold a world conference in Washington, and to undertake to do the same work that has already been undertaken by the League of Nations. Such world wide dreams, he may have been dreaming when he was so careful to explain that the League of nations was "deceased," and that it had been "scrapped" for the good of the world.

THE PROPOSED VISIT OF LLOYD GEORGE.

It matters not at all whether the views of Lloyd George are accepted, by the American people, or not, the fact remains that if he should come to this country as Great Britain's representative in the Harding peace conference, many people would like to see the distinguished Welshman and many tributes will doubtless be paid to his long public service during the last years of the war, and since. In New York society, he will not create as much interest as did the Prince of Wales, when he visited in this country. The smart set on Fifth avenue, were carried away with the young Prince and said "Eddie was such a nice boy". In the case of the British Premier, the American people will take him for what he is. He will not have to depend on smiles and being pleasant. Mr. George has already established his character one way or the other. Despite all that may be said against the Welshman he has remained in power a long time, and during a very critical period. He seems to have retained the confidence of all classes to a remarkable extent, as is shown by the willingness of the Irish Republican leaders to meet and confer with him on the future of Ireland. He came into power when the Allied cause, was going badly at least very slowly. It was his work as director for increased munitions of war that put him to the fore front and enabled him to defeat the easy going Asquith. It was reported that during the heavy firing on the West front that he was so deeply interested that he would lie awake at night to hear the roar of the guns from across the channel. When the war was over Lloyd George, alone of all the great Premiers and leaders has remained in power. He has had as difficult a time, holding the British Empire together since the war as he had defending it from foreign foes. He will be remembered by the generations yet to come, along with the most active men and commanding figures of his day. He has always outspoken in his professed friendship for America, and an earnest advocate of world peace, so it would seem but fitting that he should be sent to this country when the world disarmament conference convenes.

THE BONUS BILL

It required no small degree of moral courage for the President and Secretary Mellon, of the treasury, to take the stand that they have taken against the passage of the soldier's bonus bill. Unquestionably a large majority of the ex-service men and a great many people believe that a general bonus bill should be enacted without delay. But the burden that it would add to the treasury, already over burdened, caused the President and his secretary to enter a protest. This is evidence of real statesmanship. Unquestionably the influence of the President will prevail and another big bond issue in the near future will be avoided.

The Herald would approve any sacrifice on the part of the nation necessary for the welfare, support and comfort of the men who were injured in the world war. There is nothing that it would withhold from the wounded or the invalids as a result of their service in the titanic conflict. It would be perfectly willing, if necessary, that a special direct tax be levied by the federal government for the benefit of those who suffer from the result of their patriotic sacrifices. But it is, on grounds of principle, opposed to a general bonus to all ex-service men. It does not believe that any money reward should be voted to those sailors and soldiers who returned from the war in as good or better physical condition than they were before they entered the service and who upon a thorough physical examination, show that their capacity or ability for earning the rewards of labor have been in no way impaired by reason of their service. In making this statement The Herald realizes that it does not speak the sentiments of a majority of the members of the great American Legion, and it regrets exceedingly that this is the case. No paper in the country has supported or will support the Legion more loyally than The Herald. It is a great and noble organization and has done inestimable service to the nation in fostering a spirit of genuine Americanism and resisting all assaults upon our institutions.—Columbia Herald.

The afternoon hours were pleasantly spent playing rook, the three tables were arranged in the prettily decorated hall, and living room, where quantities of sun flowers were artistically grouped in tall crystal vases and hanging baskets. Following the interesting game, ribbon ices were served by the hostesses' sisters, Miss Mabel and Frances Cook. He and son, Ed, and family had spent a week camping at Blue Water, where they had a very delightful time. Mr. Hildreth was for many years owner and editor of the New Decatur Advertiser, a very excellent country weekly with an up-to-date job shop. He has retired from business now and enjoying a well earned rest. We trust this lovable old Englishman will be spared many years and we believe he will for his heart stays young.

Editor Will Shelton of the Albany-Decatur Daily was among those of the Twin Cities who motored over to Athens Sunday afternoon. A number of Athenians have been attending the ball games in Albany this week. A real treat

A COOL, shady spot, the family all gathered around a tempting lunch spread before them—gold chicken, tongue, ham, olives, pickles and, most tempting of all, a delicious pie, baked from Valier's Dainty Flour. Don't you wish you were there?

Pie, with a crust baked of Dainty Flour, is a treat anywhere, but somehow, out in the open, it tastes even better than usual. The flavor of the carefully selected soft winter wheat from which Valier's Dainty Flour is milled makes it delicious to the last crumb.

Yet fine baking is not the only recommendation for Valier's Dainty Flour. Dainty is economical in spite of its higher cost per sack. It's like cream skimmed from rich, Jersey milk—all quality. You won't waste it in failures and you need less shortening with it. Order a sack of Dainty and have that picnic this week end.

MAY ALLISON STARS AT PRINCESS THEATER TODAY

"The Marriage of Wm. Ashe," starring May Allison, will be the feature attraction at the Princess Theatre, today. This new Metro production is announced by competent authorities to be one of the out-standing dramatic pictures of the year, and one of the best in which the star, Miss Allison, has yet been seen.

The scenic ingenuity of the production is on a scale sufficiently lavish to classify it with the super-special pictures of the season, which excellently compliments the strong dramatic story, in which is portrayed the struggles of a brilliantly clever young woman against the machinations of unscrupulous political enemies.

Miss Allison will be seen in the role of Lady Kitty Bristol, who flees from the convent in which she has been placed by her parents and travels to London, where at length she makes the acquaintance of William Ashe, the Secretary for Home Affairs in the British Cabinet, and subsequently marries him. Following her marriage to Ashe and their honeymoon abroad, Lady Kitty meets Cliffe, a radical, who poisons her mind with political intrigue against the party of her husband.

Influenced by Cliffe, Lady Kitty publishes a book dealing with affairs of state, and is then discovered in the apartment of Cliffe by her husband. She strives to square herself, however, but is prevented by Ashe. She then returns to the convent from which she fled, only to be found there some time later by Ashe, who forgives and loves her.

Kiwanis Appoints Committee Aid "Muscle Shoals"

ought to feel that we are ahead of the game on every count with one exception, and that is the matter of a budget. With that exception we have anticipated all of the recommendations. As a result of the Presidents conferences it was the sense of the Convention that the Presidents of the local clubs should not succeed themselves.

The Convention was officially welcomed by Harry Hoard, President of the Cleveland Kiwanis club, by Mayor Fitzgerald of Cleveland and Gov. Davis of Ohio. President Barnett responded and in so doing gave the keynote address. It seems hardly necessary to go into detail in regard to these addresses with one exception: in reporting the address of President Barnett the Associated Press and International News Service quoted him as being opposed to the program of the American Legion. When this report was published the following day President Barnett promptly wired headquarters repudiating the report. What he said was that he was opposed to a cash bonus but that he felt we should urge immediate action to provide relief for soldiers and their dependents, the immediate establishment of hospitals and homes for the relief of those disabled and schools for those who need vocational training. This, you will readily appreciate coincides with the program of the American Legion and the report as given by the press was garbled.

The afternoon session was what might be termed an American hour. By far the most interesting and able address was that delivered by Roger W. Babson, head of the great statistical organization. He chose as the subject "The business outlook." As a business man, he urged the application of the great Christian principle "The Golden Rule" and urged that each Kiwanian give 100 cents of service for each dollar received. He didn't blame capital—he didn't blame labor—he blamed them both and likened business to a jackass that was standing between a heap of grain on one side and a pile of hay on the other, and because he couldn't make up his mind which to eat he starved to death. Mr. Babson stated that it was his belief that the Southern states would be the first to recover because they universally had been the first to go to work determined not to let the conditions overwhelm them.

Mr. Babson was followed by Mr. Atwood of Chicago, who spoke on "The Constitution Our Safeguard." This was a typical American address in which the speaker urged a thorough acquaintance with the constitution of the United States, which document has been conceded the greatest pronouncement of human rights ever penned by human hand. Mr. Atwood urged that we as citizens regard with disfavor any movement to alter or change this document. As a consequence a resolution was introduced and carried urging that particular study be given this in our school. With this address the Convention adjourned to the following day.

The most interesting feature of the following session was the reports of O. Sam Cummings, International Secretary, who retires October 1st. to enter private business. Perhaps the most interesting feature of that report is the growth of Kiwanis which is as follows:

1915—1 Club.
1916—5 Clubs.
1917—33 Clubs, Membership 3800.
1918—83 Clubs, Membership 8500
1919—130 Clubs, Membership 18500.
1920—267 Clubs, Membership 26500.
1921—533 Clubs, Membership 47970.

You will note that during the past year the number of clubs has doubled and the membership increased 90 per cent. Following the adoption of Mr. Cummings report, he was presented with a watch and chain, a gift from the International officers, and with a diamond ring, a gift from the club Secretaries. Following Mr. Fred J. Parker of Chicago, Mr. Cummings' successor was introduced.

In order that there might be a continued growth of the bonds of friendship between the two great nations, the United States and Canada a resolution was introduced designating that Canada would observe an American week during which period all the clubs in Canada would make it a point to study American institutions and would hold an American meeting and likewise all the clubs of the United States would do the same in regard to Canada. It was agreed that a week in April would be designated as it was during that month that the United States joined the Allies in the great world war.

The Convention was also committed to a policy of urging a reduction in Armaments, a policy of Reforestation, a teaching of the Constitution of the United States of America in public schools. The Budget system for all local clubs, that the Convention period be here after limited to three instead of four days, and other matters of minor interest. The two following sessions were given over to reports of various committees.

Perhaps one of the most interesting talks was on the subject of music following the report of the chairman of the music committee. The fundamental necessity of having singing at each meeting was shown and this is a feature of particular interest to us.

As an aid to club singing the International committee on music has prepared and will shortly have ready for distribution a new song book containing 148 songs with music. It is suggested that we appoint a song leader and beginning tonight we each appoint himself a committee of one to join in club singing. It makes little difference whether we can sing or not. Go through the motions and it will surprise you of the result.

The following afternoon session was designated as Canadian Hour and if this be a symbol of the ability of our Canadian neighbors to play host, great things may be expected in the Convention in 1922. Geo. Ross, dominion finance officer presided. Dr. Robertson, head of the Red Cross and director of the Canadian Boy Scouts gave the address. Following the address a pageant was staged, showing periods of Canadian history to the present day. The session ended by singing America and God Save the King.

The concluding session of the Convention was held June 24th, at which officers for the ensuing year were elected and a Convention adjourned. The result of ballots for officers gave the official positions to the following:

President, Carr, Baltimore; 1st Vice President, Johnson, Ill.; 2nd Vice President, Howell, Texas; 3rd Vice President, Hobson, Canada; Treasurer, Ward, Detroit; Turner, Pa., Trustee; Geo. Ross, Canada; Arnold, Carolina; Pratt, Kansas City; McCulloch, Indiana.

Three contestants for the 1922 Convention were in the field. Toronto, Canada, Atlanta, Ga., and Fort Worth, Texas. On the first ballot Toronto was an easy winner with Atlanta second and Fort Worth a poor third.

In submitting this report it is here desired to make a recommendation and that is in sending future delegates to International Conventions that they be sent uninstructed in regard to Convention cities. This recommendation is made to avoid embarrassment to delegates and likewise districts.

In closing this report I find it difficult to express my appreciation of the honor of representing the Morgan Kiwanis club. Like the man who he more he saw of some people—the more he thought of his dog—likewise he more I saw of the other organizations the more I am impressed with the Morgan club and regardless of any Kiwanis club I am prouder of my own and feel that we have kept the faith and done our bit to make these towns more like what we want them to be.

A splendid lunch was served by the ladies of the Central Baptist church and the evening made the more delightful by several vocal numbers rendered by Miss Mary Penick, whose pleasing, unaffected delivery charmed her hearers.

MULES-MINERS TIE

COLUMBIA, July 14.—(Special)—The Columbia Mules and the Russellville Miners went ten innings to decide the winner here yesterday but failed to gain a decision when darkness set in.

The Mules used three pitchers to stop the Russellville clan but the score was tied before this was accomplished. Mott, the Miner hurler, pitched a beautiful game and held the Mules safe at all times but errors behind him let the Mules run up a count of five before the Russellville bats got busy.
